

IRISH HOME RULE TO GO THROUGH IN NEXT PARLIAMENT; LIBERALS BEEN WON OVER

London, Nov. 14.—Parliament closes with Home Rule the big issue of the hour. When parliament assembles again the last battle for Home Rule will be on. For it is a foregone conclusion that Home Rule will win.

For now all liberal England has been won over to the side of the Irish.

Not since the days of Gladstone and Parnell has the cause of Ireland been accorded such sympathetic support among English people. Wherever the Irish Home-rule speakers, Redmond, "Tay Pay" O'Connor and the rest have spoken in their recent campaigning in England they have been enthusiastically received.

The Tories will base their fight against Home Rule on the question of the financial relation of Ireland with the rest of the kingdom and on that of religion. The non-conformists of the north of Ireland will do all in their power to aid them.

But it may be taken for granted that the opposition will be vain. For the fact is that now the fight for Home Rule is practically over.

Ten Socialist mayors in Ohio and the gangs licked at Toledo and Cincinnati, besides. Mr. Taft's fences seem to be rather sadly in need of repair.
